

Code of Ethics

Business Conduct

The Business Conduct Policy provides the foundational guide for how we interact with customers, with third parties, and with each other.

Export and Sanctions

Apple is committed to compliance with applicable export and sanctions laws. All employees are responsible for complying with these laws and reporting possible violations.

Whistleblower Policy

Apple's Global Whistleblowing Policy applies to all current and former employees, directors and officers, contractors and subcontractors of Apple and its subsidiaries, and sets out Apple's approach to protecting and supporting individuals who report potential misconduct.

Labor and Human Rights and Environmental Protection

Supplier Responsibility is a core value at Apple. We hold ourselves and our suppliers to the highest standards to protect the people in our supply chain, and the planet we all share. We uphold that commitment by setting out what is required of our suppliers.

Anti-Corruption

Apple does not tolerate any form of corruption. Apple's Anti-Corruption Policy details our commitment to complying with anti-corruption laws.

Antitrust and Competition

Apple is committed to conducting business in full compliance with competition laws around the world.

Third Party Code

Apple sets out the legal and ethical standards required of businesses that associate themselves with our brand.

Human Rights

Apple treats everyone with respect and dignity — from our customers and teams, to our business partners and people at every level of our supply chain.

Public Policy Advocacy

Apple engages in policy discussions where they matter to our business and customers. This policy defines our position on corporate political contributions and describes how Apple participates in public debate in the United States through direct and indirect advocacy.
